DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the amendment filed October 6, 2003 for the above identified patent application.

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 26-28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 7.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because Figure 3 fails to show each and every component described in the specification. More clearly, Figure 3 only shows reference numerals and does not illustrate the claimed device. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, "the lead screw engaging a threaded region of the elongated blade" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. Claim 1 and 19, the limitation "in compliance" is not fully understood. Does applicant intend to define the manipulator having a compliant arrangement for allowing the first and second portions to rotate relative to one another? Appropriate correction is required.

b. Claim 2, line 1, the limitation "interference bearing" lacks proper antecedent basis. It appears that the limitation "interference bearing" should be changed to --the interference coupling--.

c. Claim 14, the limitation "the lead screw engaging a threaded region of the elongated blade" is not fully understood because Figure 2 shows the lead screw engaging a threaded region of the stiffener.

d. Claim 25, line 1, the limitation "the retaining mechanism" appears to lack proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 8, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakajima et al. (US Patent 5,642,056).

Nakajima et al. illustrates in Figure 9 a manipulator device comprising an elongated blade (27a,27b) extending from a region outside a test head (22,24,27,82) into an internal region of the test head, an interference coupling (92,93) disposed in the internal region of the test head, the interference coupling having a first portion formed integrally with the elongated blade and a second portion (84a) coupled to the test head, the first and second portions being free to rotate about a bearing member (92a) with respect to each other in compliance about at least one axis of rotation, wherein

With respect to claim 8, the manipulator includes a linear coupling (93) having first and second elongated members, wherein the first and second members are movably coupled to each other.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the manipulator used in combination with a test head of Slocum et al. ('048) and Khater et al. ('440).
